DIRK SCHUMANN

Dirk Schumann, born in 1960 in Soest, Germany, studied product design at the Münster University of Applied Sciences. After graduating in 1987, he joined OCO Design as an industrial designer. He moved to Sieger Design in 1989, and until 1991, he was a lecturer at the product design unit of Münster University of Applied Sciences.

In 1992, he founded his own design studio, Büro für industrielle Formentwicklung, in Münster. Since then, he has been focusing on conceptual architecture, creating visionary home design ideas and holding lectures at international conferences. Dirk Schumann has taken part in exhibitions, both in Germany and abroad, showcasing works that have garnered several awards.
